

JPMorgan Chase Sedgwick Disability Management

Policy Document for U.S. Employees

Short-Term Disability (STD) | Long-Term Disability (LTD) | Leave Administration

Effective Date: January 1, 2025

Executive Summary

JPMorgan Chase partners with Sedgwick Claims Management Services to administer comprehensive disability benefits and leave of absence programs for employees unable to work due to illness or injury. This policy document outlines the firm's disability management programs effective January 1, 2025, including Short-Term Disability (STD) coverage providing time off and full or partial pay for up to 26 weeks based on service tenure, Long-Term Disability (LTD) coverage providing 50-60% income replacement for extended disabilities, integrated leave administration through the mySedgwick portal, medical certification and claims processes, return-to-work support, and coordination with state disability programs. These benefits reflect JPMorgan Chase's commitment to providing financial security and job protection during periods of illness or injury[1][2].

Section 1: Sedgwick Partnership Overview

1.1 Role of Sedgwick Claims Management Services

Sedgwick is a leading third-party administrator (TPA) that manages disability and leave of absence claims on behalf of JPMorgan Chase. As a TPA, Sedgwick handles claims processing, eligibility determination, medical review, and benefits administration, while JPMorgan Chase remains financially responsible for benefit payments[1][2].

Sedgwick Responsibilities:

- Receive and process STD and LTD claims
- Review medical documentation and certifications
- Determine eligibility for disability benefits
- Calculate benefit amounts and payment schedules
- Coordinate state disability benefits where applicable
- Manage return-to-work processes
- Administer leave of absence tracking
- Provide customer service and claim status updates
- Handle appeals and reconsiderations

JPMorgan Chase Responsibilities:

- Fund disability benefit payments

- Establish plan design and eligibility rules
- Maintain employee data and service records
- Coordinate job protection and return-to-work accommodations
- Oversee Sedgwick's claim administration
- Ensure compliance with legal requirements

1.2 mySedgwick Portal

All JPMorgan Chase employees access disability and leave services through the mySedgwick portal at login.mysedgwick.com/jpmc[3].

Portal Features:

- Report new disability or leave claims online
- View real-time claim status and progress tracking
- Upload medical documentation and forms
- Communicate securely with Sedgwick case managers
- View payment history and benefit details
- Track leave balances (sick time, FMLA, etc.)
- Access claim-related documents and letters
- Manage contact information and preferences

Portal Access:

- Use JPMorgan Chase Standard ID (SID) to log in
- Available 24/7 for claim management
- Mobile-responsive design for smartphone access
- Secure encrypted communications

Section 2: Short-Term Disability (STD) Plan

2.1 STD Plan Overview

The JPMorgan Chase Short-Term Disability (STD) Plan provides time off and short-term disability pay to eligible employees who become unable to work due to a non-occupational illness or injury[1][2].

Key STD Features:

- Up to 26 weeks of job-protected disability leave
- Full or partial pay based on years of service
- 14-calendar-day elimination period (waiting period)
- Coverage for non-occupational illnesses and injuries
- Coordination with state disability benefits
- Administered by Sedgwick Claims Management Services
- No premium cost to employees (employer-paid benefit)

2.2 STD Eligibility Requirements

Employee Eligibility:

To qualify for STD benefits, employees must:

- Be actively employed by JPMorgan Chase on a U.S. payroll
- Be benefits-eligible (regularly scheduled to work 20 or more hours per week)
- Be unable to perform the material duties of their regular occupation due to illness or injury
- Be under the active care of a licensed physician or healthcare provider
- Not be disabled due to work-related injury or illness (covered by Workers' Compensation)

No Waiting Period:

STD coverage begins immediately upon achieving benefits-eligible status. There is no minimum service requirement to be eligible for STD benefits[1][2].

Part-Time Employee Eligibility:

Part-time employees regularly scheduled to work 20+ hours per week are eligible for STD benefits on the same basis as full-time employees[1].

2.3 Qualifying Disabilities

Covered Conditions:

STD benefits are available for non-occupational illnesses and injuries including:

- Serious illness requiring hospitalization or ongoing treatment
- Major surgery and recovery period
- Pregnancy and childbirth (includes medical recovery period)
- Serious injury (fractures, severe sprains, etc.)
- Mental health conditions requiring treatment and time off work
- Chronic conditions with acute flare-ups preventing work
- Cancer treatment and recovery
- Cardiovascular events and treatment
- Complications from medical procedures

Excluded Conditions:

STD benefits are NOT available for:

- Work-related injuries or illnesses (covered by Workers' Compensation)
- Disabilities resulting from commission of a felony
- Self-inflicted injuries
- Disabilities while incarcerated
- Cosmetic procedures (unless medically necessary)
- Disabilities occurring while not under active employment

2.4 Elimination Period

14-Calendar-Day Waiting Period:

STD benefits do not begin immediately upon disability. Employees must be continuously disabled for 14 consecutive calendar days before STD benefits commence[1][2].

Using Sick Time During Elimination Period:

- Employees may use accrued sick time during the 14-day elimination period
- Sick time provides salary continuation during waiting period
- If sick time is exhausted, employee may be on unpaid leave during elimination period
- Vacation or personal days may also be used during elimination period

Elimination Period Calculation:

- Day 1: First day unable to work due to disability
- Days 1-14: Elimination period (no STD benefits; may use sick time)
- Day 15: STD benefits begin (if claim approved)

Example:

Employee becomes disabled on Monday, March 1:

- March 1-14: 14-day elimination period (use sick time or unpaid)
- March 15: STD benefits begin

2.5 STD Benefit Amounts and Duration

Benefit Schedule Based on Service:

STD benefit amounts and duration depend on years of recognized service with JPMorgan Chase[1][2]:

Years of Service	Weeks at 100% Pay	Weeks at 60% Pay
Less than 1 year	0 weeks	Up to 26 weeks
1 but less than 2 years	5 weeks	Up to 21 weeks
2 but less than 5 years	10 weeks	Up to 16 weeks
5 but less than 10 years	15 weeks	Up to 11 weeks
10 or more years	26 weeks	0 weeks

Table 1: STD benefit schedule by years of recognized service

Maximum STD Duration:

All employees receive up to 26 weeks of STD benefits regardless of service, with the mix of 100% pay and 60% pay varying by tenure.

Base Salary Definition:

- STD benefits calculated on base salary only

- Does not include bonuses, commissions, overtime, or other variable compensation
- Based on salary at time disability begins

Payment Schedule:

- STD benefits paid biweekly through regular payroll
- Payments begin after 14-day elimination period
- Subject to applicable taxes and deductions
- Coordinated with state disability benefits (where applicable)

2.6 State Disability Benefit Coordination

States with Statutory Disability Programs:

Certain states require employers to provide state-mandated disability benefits:

- California
- New York
- New Jersey
- Rhode Island
- Hawaii

California and Rhode Island:

For employees working in California or Rhode Island, JPMorgan Chase STD benefits are reduced or offset by state statutory disability benefits^{[1][2]}:

- Employee receives combination of JPMorgan Chase STD and state disability benefits
- Total benefit does not exceed 100% of salary during full-pay period or 60% during partial-pay period
- State benefit amount deducted from JPMorgan Chase STD payment
- Offset applied even if employee does not claim state benefits

Other State Programs:

For New York, New Jersey, and Hawaii:

- Sedgwick ensures employee receives most generous benefit
- State statutory benefit compared to JPMorgan Chase STD
- Employee receives whichever provides higher benefit
- If state benefit exceeds JPMorgan Chase STD, employee receives state benefit

Employee Responsibilities for State Benefits:

- Apply for state disability benefits when applicable
- Provide required documentation to state agency
- Coordinate with Sedgwick on state benefit claims
- Report state benefit amounts to Sedgwick

2.7 Filing an STD Claim

When to File:

File STD claim as soon as you know you will be unable to work for more than 14 consecutive days due to illness or injury.

How to File:

1. Notify Your Manager: Inform supervisor of inability to work and expected duration
2. Access mySedgwick Portal: Go to login.mysedgwick.com/jpmc
3. Log In: Use JPMorgan Chase Standard ID (SID)
4. Start New Claim: Click "Report a New Claim" or "Start a Claim"
5. Complete Claim Form: Provide personal information, disability details, expected return date
6. Authorize Medical Records: Sign authorization for Sedgwick to obtain medical records
7. Submit Claim: Review and submit claim electronically

Claim Filing Deadline:

File STD claim within 30 calendar days of disability start date. Late claims may be denied or benefits delayed[1].

Alternative Filing Methods:

- Phone: Contact Sedgwick Leave of Absence Service Center (phone number available on mySedgwick portal)
- Manager Assistance: Manager can help initiate claim process

2.8 Medical Certification Requirements

Physician's Statement Required:

Sedgwick requires medical certification from treating healthcare provider documenting:

- Diagnosis and nature of condition
- Date disability began
- Symptoms and functional limitations
- Treatment plan
- Prognosis and expected duration of disability
- Statement that employee unable to perform job duties
- Expected return-to-work date

Sedgwick Medical Forms:

- Sedgwick provides medical certification forms to employee
- Employee gives form to treating physician to complete
- Physician returns completed form directly to Sedgwick (preferred) or to employee for submission

Documentation Deadline:

Medical certification must be submitted within 30 calendar days of claim filing. Failure to provide timely medical documentation may result in claim denial[1][2].

Ongoing Medical Updates:

- Sedgwick may request updated medical information during disability
- Physician updates required for claim extensions beyond initial approved period
- Employee responsible for ensuring physician submits required updates

2.9 Claim Review and Approval Process

Sedgwick Claim Review:

1. Sedgwick receives claim and medical documentation
2. Medical review team evaluates medical information
3. Sedgwick determines if disability meets plan definition
4. Sedgwick verifies employee eligibility and service records
5. Approval or denial decision issued

Decision Timeline:

- Initial decision typically within 7-10 business days of receiving complete medical documentation
- Employee notified via mySedgwick portal, email, and/or mail
- Approved claims: Payment begins after 14-day elimination period
- Denied claims: Written denial notice with reason and appeal rights

Claim Approval:

If claim approved:

- Employee receives approval letter stating benefit amount and duration
- Benefits paid biweekly through payroll
- Sedgwick case manager assigned to monitor claim
- Employee receives periodic check-ins and status updates

Claim Denial:

If claim denied:

- Written denial notice explains reason for denial
- Notice includes appeal rights and deadlines
- Employee may submit additional medical information
- Employee may appeal denial (see Section 2.12)

2.10 During STD Leave

Case Management:

- Sedgwick case manager monitors claim throughout disability
- Case manager contacts employee periodically for status updates
- Medical updates required for ongoing benefit eligibility
- Return-to-work planning begins as recovery progresses

Employee Responsibilities:

- Respond to Sedgwick communications promptly
- Attend medical appointments and follow treatment plan
- Provide updated medical information as requested
- Report any changes in condition or expected return date
- Notify Sedgwick if able to return to work earlier than expected

Benefits Continuation:

During approved STD leave:

- Health insurance (medical, dental, vision) continues
- Life and disability insurance continues
- Employee pays regular premium share via payroll deduction from STD payments
- Service credit continues to accrue
- Job protection maintained

Leave Coordination:

STD leave runs concurrently with:

- FMLA (if employee is FMLA-eligible and condition qualifies)
- State family/medical leave programs
- Personal leave (if applicable)

2.11 Returning from STD Leave

Return-to-Work Process:

1. Medical Clearance: Obtain physician's release to return to work
2. Notify Sedgwick: Confirm return-to-work date through mySedgwick portal
3. Submit Medical Release: Provide physician's return-to-work clearance to Sedgwick
4. Coordinate with Manager: Contact supervisor to confirm return date and schedule
5. Return to Same Position: Resume duties in same role held before disability

Fitness-for-Duty Requirements:

- Physician must certify employee able to perform essential job functions
- Medical release should specify any work restrictions or limitations
- If restrictions apply, employee and manager coordinate accommodations

Modified Duty/Return-to-Work Programs:

- Transitional return-to-work may be available for gradual return
- Reduced hours or modified duties may be arranged temporarily
- Work with Sedgwick case manager and supervisor to develop return-to-work plan
- Accommodations coordinated through Human Resources

Recurrent Disabilities:

If employee returns to work and same condition recurs within 90 days:

- Considered continuation of original disability
- No new 14-day elimination period required
- Continue receiving STD benefits under original claim
- Weeks of benefits already used count toward 26-week maximum

- Must notify Sedgwick immediately upon recurrence

If more than 90 days pass before recurrence:

- Treated as new disability
- New 14-day elimination period applies
- New 26-week benefit period begins

2.12 STD Claim Appeals

Right to Appeal:

Employees have the right to appeal STD claim denials or benefit terminations.

Appeal Process:

1. Review Denial Notice: Understand reason for denial and appeal deadline
2. Gather Additional Information: Obtain supporting medical documentation, physician statements, or other evidence
3. Submit Written Appeal: File appeal through mySedgwick portal or mail to address in denial notice
4. Include Supporting Documents: Attach all medical records and evidence supporting disability
5. Appeal Review: Sedgwick reviews appeal and additional information
6. Appeal Decision: Sedgwick issues decision within 30-45 days

Appeal Deadline:

Appeals must be filed within 180 days of receiving denial notice[1][2].

Second-Level Appeal:

If first-level appeal denied:

- Employee may request second-level review
- Independent medical review may be conducted
- Final decision issued

Legal Rights:

After exhausting internal appeals, employee may:

- File complaint with state insurance department (if applicable)
- Pursue legal action under ERISA (Employee Retirement Income Security Act)
- Consult with disability attorney regarding options

2.13 Transition to Long-Term Disability

When STD Benefits Exhaust:

If employee remains disabled after 26 weeks of STD:

- STD benefits end
- Employee may be eligible for Long-Term Disability (LTD) benefits
- LTD eligibility depends on having LTD coverage before disability began

- Sedgwick automatically evaluates employee for LTD transition

LTD Application Process:

- Sedgwick case manager assists with LTD application
 - Additional medical documentation may be required
 - LTD has different eligibility criteria and benefit structure
 - See Section 3 for LTD Plan details

Section 3: Long-Term Disability (LTD) Plan

3.1 LTD Plan Overview

The JPMorgan Chase Long-Term Disability (LTD) Plan provides income replacement for employees who remain disabled beyond the STD benefit period (26 weeks)[2].

Key LTD Features:

- Income replacement of 50-60% of Total Annual Cash Compensation (TACC)
- Benefits continue until age 65 or recovery, whichever comes first
- Two LTD options: Group LTD (automatic coverage) and Individual Disability Insurance (IDI) (elected coverage)
- Monthly benefit payments
- Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) offset applies
- Administered by Sedgwick or insurance carrier (depending on option)

3.2 LTD Eligibility Requirements

Active Employment Requirement:

To be eligible for LTD benefits, employee must:

- Have been actively employed and benefits-eligible when disability began
- Have LTD coverage in effect before disability began (either automatic Group LTD or elected IDI)
- Be unable to perform the material duties of regular occupation (first 24 months)
- Be unable to perform duties of any occupation for which reasonably qualified (after 24 months)
- Be under active care of licensed physician

LTD Coverage Options:

JPMorgan Chase offers two LTD options[2]:

1. Group LTD (Automatic): Provided automatically to employees with Total Annual Cash Compensation (TACC) less than $60,000
2. Individual Disability Insurance (IDI): Optional coverage employees can elect during annual enrollment; provides higher benefit levels and portability

Employees with TACC ≥ $60,000:

Must elect LTD coverage (either Group LTD or IDI) during annual enrollment to have LTD protection.

3.3 LTD Benefit Amounts

Group LTD Benefit Formula:

- TACC < $60,000: 60% of Total Annual Cash Compensation
- TACC ≥ $60,000: 50% or 60% of TACC (depending on election)

Individual Disability Insurance (IDI) Benefits:

- Higher benefit levels available (up to 60-66% of income)
- Customizable coverage amounts
- Portable coverage (continues if employee leaves JPMorgan Chase)
- Additional cost-of-living adjustments available

Maximum Monthly Benefit:

Group LTD and IDI have maximum monthly benefit caps (typically $10,000-$15,000 per month, depending on plan design).

Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) Offset:

- LTD benefits reduced by SSDI benefits received
- Employee must apply for SSDI when LTD claim approved
- Sedgwick assists with SSDI application process
- If SSDI approved, LTD benefit reduced dollar-for-dollar by SSDI amount

Example:

- Employee's calculated LTD benefit: $5,000/month
- SSDI benefit approved: $2,000/month
- JPMorgan Chase LTD payment: $3,000/month ($5,000 - $2,000)
- Employee's total disability income: $5,000/month ($3,000 LTD + $2,000 SSDI)

3.4 LTD Benefit Duration

Maximum Benefit Period:

LTD benefits continue until the earliest of:

- Employee reaches age 65
- Employee recovers and returns to work
- Employee no longer meets disability definition
- Employee fails to provide required medical documentation
- Employee dies

Disabilities Beginning After Age 60:

Limited benefit duration based on age when disability begins (typically ranges from 12 months to 5 years).

3.5 Definition of Disability

First 24 Months:

Employee is disabled if unable to perform the material and substantial duties of their own occupation.

After 24 Months:

Employee is disabled if unable to perform the duties of any occupation for which reasonably qualified by education, training, or experience.

Own Occupation vs. Any Occupation:

- Initial 2 years: More lenient standard (can't do own job)
- After 2 years: Stricter standard (can't do any suitable job)
- Transition requires re-evaluation at 24-month mark

3.6 Filing an LTD Claim

LTD Claim Process:

1. Automatic Evaluation: If on approved STD, Sedgwick automatically evaluates for LTD as STD approaches 26 weeks
2. Submit LTD Application: Complete LTD application through mySedgwick portal
3. Provide Medical Documentation: Submit comprehensive medical records documenting ongoing disability
4. Apply for SSDI: File application for Social Security Disability Insurance
5. Claim Review: Sedgwick or insurance carrier reviews LTD claim
6. Approval Decision: Receive approval or denial decision

Medical Documentation Requirements:

- Physician statements and treatment records
- Diagnostic test results and imaging reports
- Functional capacity evaluations
- Mental health treatment records (if applicable)
- Specialist consultations and reports

SSDI Application Requirement:

- LTD plan requires employees to apply for SSDI
- Sedgwick provides assistance and resources for SSDI application
- Failure to apply for SSDI may result in LTD benefit reduction or denial
- SSDI attorney fees may be reimbursed if SSDI approved

3.7 LTD Claim Administration

Ongoing Requirements:

During LTD leave, employee must:

- Provide periodic medical updates (every 3-6 months)
- Attend independent medical examinations (IME) if requested
- Participate in vocational rehabilitation if recommended

- Report any return to work or income earned
- Comply with treatment recommendations
- Apply for SSDI and pursue appeal if denied

Benefits Continuation During LTD:

- Health insurance continues with employee premium payments (first 24 months of LTD)
- After 24 months LTD, health coverage may transition to COBRA
- Life insurance may continue at reduced levels
- Service credit does not accrue during LTD
- Job position not held indefinitely; employment status changes to LTD leave

Return-to-Work Programs:

- Sedgwick offers vocational rehabilitation and return-to-work support
- Trial work periods may be available
- Partial disability benefits may be available for reduced-capacity work
- Coordinate with JPMorgan Chase HR for accommodation discussions

3.8 LTD Appeals

Appeal Process:

If LTD claim denied:

1. Review denial letter for reason and appeal deadline
2. Gather additional medical evidence supporting disability
3. Submit written appeal to Sedgwick or insurance carrier
4. Include physician letters, medical records, functional assessments
5. Appeal reviewed by independent medical reviewers
6. Decision issued within 45-60 days

Legal Representation:

- Employees may consult disability insurance attorneys
- Attorney representation may improve appeal success rates
- ERISA governs LTD plan appeals and litigation
- Consult attorney experienced in disability insurance claims

Section 4: Leave Administration Through Sedgwick

4.1 Integrated Leave Management

Response Times:

- Portal messages: Response within 1-2 business days
- Phone calls: Hold times vary; callback option available
- Claim decisions: Within 7-10 business days of receiving complete information

Section 5: Employee Rights and Protections

5.1 Job Protection

During Approved Disability Leave:

- Job protection maintained during STD (up to 26 weeks)
- FMLA provides 12 weeks job protection (if eligible)
- State laws may provide additional job protection
- Employee returns to same or equivalent position upon recovery

After Extended Disability:

- LTD status: Employment relationship continues but position not held indefinitely

- After 24 months LTD: Employment status may change; discuss with HR
- Return-to-work accommodations explored when medically appropriate

5.2 Privacy and Confidentiality

Medical Information Protection:

- Medical records maintained confidentially by Sedgwick
- HIPAA protections apply to all medical information
- Medical details not shared with supervisors or managers
- Only "fitness for duty" status communicated to employer
- Medical files stored separately from personnel files

Employee Rights:

- Access own medical records maintained by Sedgwick
- Request corrections to medical information
- Limit disclosure of medical information
- File complaints regarding privacy violations

5.3 Non-Retaliation

Protected Rights:

- Employees cannot be penalized for filing disability claims
- Taking approved leave cannot be used against employee in performance reviews
- No adverse employment action based on disability status
- Violations may be reported to Human Resources or legal authorities

This policy document provides summary of JPMorgan Chase disability benefits administered by Sedgwick. Complete details contained in official Plan documents, Summary Plan Descriptions (SPDs), and insurance contracts. In event of conflict, official Plan documents govern.

7.2 Right to Amend or Terminate

JPMorgan Chase reserves right to amend, modify, or terminate disability benefit plans at any time, subject to applicable law. Changes may affect eligibility, benefit amounts, or plan provisions.

7.3 Claims Determination

Sedgwick has discretionary authority to determine eligibility for benefits and interpret plan provisions. Claim decisions based on medical evidence, plan terms, and legal requirements.

7.4 Coordination of Benefits

Disability benefits coordinate with:

- Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)
- State disability benefits
- Workers' Compensation (work-related injuries)
- Other disability income sources

7.5 Tax Implications

STD Benefits:

- Taxable income (employer-paid benefit)
- Reported on W-2
- Subject to federal and state income tax withholding

LTD Benefits:

- Group LTD (employer-paid): Benefits are taxable income
- Individual Disability Insurance (employee-paid): Benefits may be tax-free
- Consult tax advisor for individual circumstances

Conclusion

JPMorgan Chase's partnership with Sedgwick Claims Management Services provides comprehensive disability benefits and leave administration to support employees during periods of illness or injury. The Short-Term Disability Plan offers up to 26 weeks of job-protected leave with full or partial pay, while the Long-Term Disability Plan provides ongoing income replacement for extended disabilities. Through the integrated mySedgwick portal, employees can easily file claims, track status, communicate with case managers, and manage all aspects of disability and leave.

These benefits demonstrate the firm's commitment to employee well-being, financial security, and support during challenging health circumstances. Employees are encouraged to understand their disability coverage, file claims promptly when needed, maintain open communication with Sedgwick case managers, and utilize available resources throughout the claims process.

For questions about disability benefits or to file a claim, access the mySedgwick portal at login.mysedgwick.com/jpmc or contact the Benefits Service Center at 1-844-ASK-JPMC.
