- Western Governors University (WGU): Competency-based degree programs

Wharton Online (University of Pennsylvania):

Guild recently added Wharton Online programs to its learning marketplace, providing JPMorgan Chase employees access to world-class business education from the Wharton School[4].

4.2 Accreditation and Quality Standards

All Guild catalog schools are:

- Accredited by recognized regional or national accrediting bodies
- Approved by the U.S. Department of Education
- Vetted for quality, student outcomes, and employer reputation
- Designed for working adult learners with flexible schedules

Program Quality Criteria:

- Strong student support services
- High graduation and completion rates
- Industry-relevant curriculum
- Experienced faculty and instructors
- Career services and job placement assistance
- Technology infrastructure for online learning

4.3 Adding New Schools and Programs

Guild Education continuously expands its catalog with new schools, programs, and learning opportunities. Employees can request consideration of specific schools or programs by contacting Guild coaches or JPMorgan Chase Human Resources.

Section 5: Tuition Reimbursement for Non-Guild Programs

5.1 Tuition Reimbursement Overview

For employees who wish to pursue approved academic programs outside the Guild catalog, JPMorgan Chase provides tuition reimbursement[2][3]:

- Undergraduate programs: Up to $5,250 per year
- Master's degrees: Up to $7,500 per year
- Certificates and certifications: Up to $7,500 per year

Reimbursement Process:

- Employee pays tuition upfront to the institution
- Upon successful course completion, employee submits reimbursement request
- JPMorgan Chase reimburses employee up to annual cap

5.2 Eligibility for Tuition Reimbursement

Program Approval Requirements:

Programs outside the Guild catalog must meet the following criteria:

- Offered by an accredited institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education
- Relevant to employee's current role or career development at JPMorgan Chase
- Pre-approved by employee's manager and Human Resources
- Academic degree, certificate, or certification program (not leisure or hobby courses)

Pre-Approval Process:

1. Employee identifies program and institution
2. Employee discusses program with manager to confirm career relevance
3. Employee submits pre-approval request through Guild platform or HR system
4. Manager and HR review and approve or deny request
5. Employee receives written confirmation of approval before enrolling

5.3 Reimbursement ProceduresStep-by-Step Process:

1. Pre-Approval: Obtain written approval before enrolling in program
2. Enrollment: Enroll in approved program and pay tuition
3. Course Completion: Successfully complete course with minimum required grade
4. Documentation: Gather required documents (receipts, transcripts, proof of payment)
5. Submission: Submit reimbursement request through Guild platform or HR system
6. Review: HR reviews submission for completeness and compliance
7. Reimbursement: Approved reimbursement paid via payroll or direct deposit

Required Documentation:

- Official grade report or transcript showing successful completion
- Proof of tuition payment (receipts, invoices, canceled checks)
- Course syllabus or description
- Pre-approval confirmation

Minimum Grade Requirements:

- Undergraduate courses: Grade of C or higher (2.0 on 4.0 scale)
- Graduate courses: Grade of B or higher (3.0 on 4.0 scale)
- Pass/Fail courses: Passing grade required
- Certifications: Successful exam completion or certification attainment

Reimbursement Timeline:

- Submit reimbursement request within 90 days of course completion
- HR reviews and processes requests within 30 days
- Reimbursement paid in next available payroll cycle following approval

5.4 Annual Caps and LimitationsCalendar Year Limits:

- Reimbursement caps based on calendar year (January 1 - December 31)
- Unused amounts do not carry over to following year
- Employee may combine Guild catalog funding and tuition reimbursement up to annual caps

Tax Implications:

- IRS allows up to $5,250 per year in tax-free employer educational assistance
- Amounts exceeding $5,250 are taxable income and reported on W-2

- Consult tax advisor for individual tax situations

Section 6: Application and Enrollment Process

6.1 Creating a Guild Account

Step 1: Access Guild Platform:

1. Visit jpmc.guildeeducation.com
2. Click "Create Account" or "Sign In"
3. Use JPMorgan Chase Standard ID (SID) to authenticate

Step 2: Complete Profile:

- Provide personal information (name, contact details)
- Indicate educational background and goals
- Specify career interests and development areas
- Complete skills assessment (optional but recommended)

Step 3: Explore Benefits:

- Review JPMorgan Chase education benefit details
- Understand funding levels for different program types
- Learn about coaching and support services available

6.2 Browsing the Guild Catalog

Program Search and Discovery:

- Browse by Category: Degrees, certificates, bootcamps, language learning
- Filter by Field: Business, technology, healthcare, liberal arts, etc.
- Filter by School: Select specific partner institutions
- Filter by Funding: 100% tuition-free, partial funding, tuition reimbursement
- Search by Keyword: Find specific programs or majors

Program Details:

Each program listing includes:

- Degree or credential type
- Institution name and accreditation
- Program description and curriculum
- Admission requirements
- Program length and time commitment
- Delivery format (online, hybrid, campus)
- JPMorgan Chase funding coverage (100%, up to $5,250, up to $7,500)
- Required books and fees coverage

Program Recommendation Quiz:

Not sure where to start? Guild offers a program recommendation quiz that suggests programs aligned with your career goals, interests, and schedule[1].

6.3 Working with Guild Coaches

Personalized Coaching Services:

Every JPMorgan Chase employee has access to free, personalized coaching from Guild education advisors[1][2][3].

Coach Support Includes:

- Career goal exploration and planning
- Program selection and comparison
- Understanding funding and financial aid options
- Application assistance and document preparation
- Enrollment guidance and troubleshooting
- Academic planning and course selection
- Time management and study strategies
- Motivation and accountability support
- Progress check-ins and problem-solving

How to Connect with a Coach:

- Schedule appointments through Guild platform
- Contact Guild via phone or email
- Request callback at convenient time
- Attend virtual or phone coaching sessions

Coaching Success:

According to Guild data, 75% of employees using Guild coaching say it's a contributor to their academic success[1].

6.4 Applying to Programs

Application Process:

1. Select program from Guild catalog
2. Review admission requirements
3. Work with Guild coach to prepare application materials
4. Submit application directly to institution (Guild coaches assist)
5. Await admission decision from school
6. Accept admission offer
7. Complete enrollment steps

Common Admission Requirements:

- High school diploma or equivalent (for undergraduate programs)
- Bachelor's degree (for graduate programs)
- Transcripts from prior institutions
- Personal statement or essay
- Letters of recommendation (some programs)
- Standardized test scores (some programs; many Guild partners offer test-optional admission)

No Application Fees:

Guild catalog programs typically waive application fees for JPMorgan Chase employees[2].

6.5 Financial Aid Coordination

Grants and Scholarships:

If applicable, grants and scholarships are applied to tuition and fees before JPMorgan Chase funding[1].

Coordination Process:

1. Student applies for federal financial aid (FAFSA)
2. Student applies for institutional scholarships
3. School applies grants/scholarships to tuition bill
4. JPMorgan Chase covers remaining tuition up to funding cap

Example:

- Total tuition: $10,000/year
- Pell Grant: $3,000
- Institutional scholarship: $2,000
- Remaining tuition: $5,000
- JPMorgan Chase pays: $5,000 (within $5,250 cap for undergrad programs in Guild catalog)
- Employee out-of-pocket: $0

Guild Financial Aid Assistance:

Guild coaches help employees:

- Complete FAFSA applications
- Identify scholarship opportunities
- Maximize available financial aid
- Understand total cost of attendance
- Plan for any out-of-pocket expenses

Section 7: Maintaining Benefits and Academic Progress

7.1 Continued Eligibility

Active Employment Requirement:

Employees must maintain active, benefits-eligible employment throughout program enrollment to continue receiving Guild Education benefits.

Impact of Employment Changes:

- Promotion or Transfer: Benefits continue without interruption
- Change to Part-Time (20+ hours/week): Benefits continue if benefits-eligible
- Change to Part-Time (<20 hours/week): Benefits may be discontinued
- Approved Leave of Absence: Consult HR; benefits may continue depending on leave type
- Termination: Benefits end; tuition coverage stops for future terms

Mid-Term Termination:

- If employment ends during an active academic term, JPMorgan Chase covers tuition for that term only
- Employee responsible for tuition in subsequent terms
- Outstanding financial obligations to school become employee's responsibility

7.2 Satisfactory Academic Progress

Academic Performance Standards:

To continue receiving tuition assistance, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress:

- Meet institution's satisfactory academic progress (SAP) standards
- Maintain minimum GPA as required by institution
- Complete courses within maximum timeframe
- Successfully complete minimum percentage of attempted credits

Impact of Poor Academic Performance:

- Failure to maintain SAP may result in loss of financial aid
- JPMorgan Chase may discontinue funding if student fails to maintain minimum standards
- Student may be required to repay tuition if course not successfully completed (tuition reimbursement programs)

Academic Support:

- Guild coaches provide study strategies and time management support
- Partner schools offer tutoring, writing centers, and academic advising
- Employee Assistance Program (EAP) offers counseling for stress management

7.3 Course Withdrawal and Changes

Dropping Courses:

- Notify Guild coach and JPMorgan Chase HR before withdrawing from courses
- Withdrawal deadlines and refund policies vary by institution
- Tuition coverage may be adjusted based on withdrawal timing
- Employee may be responsible for tuition if withdrawn after refund period

Changing Programs:

- Students may change programs or majors
 - Notify Guild coach of program changes
 - New program must remain within Guild catalog or receive new pre-approval for tuition reimbursement
 - Funding caps and coverage continue to apply

Section 8: Obligations and Repayment

8.1 Service Commitment

No Service Obligation:

Unlike traditional tuition reimbursement programs, JPMorgan Chase's Guild Education benefit does not require a service commitment or repayment if the employee leaves the company[2][3].

Employee Freedom:

- No requirement to remain employed for specified period after completing education
- No obligation to repay tuition if employee resigns or is terminated
- Education benefits are provided without strings attached

Exception - Tuition Reimbursement (Non-Guild Programs):

For programs outside the Guild catalog using traditional tuition reimbursement:

- JPMorgan Chase may require repayment if employee voluntarily terminates within 12 months of reimbursement
- Specific terms communicated during pre-approval process
- Consult HR for details on non-Guild tuition reimbursement obligations

8.2 Fraudulent Claims

Good Faith Use:

Education benefits provided in good faith for legitimate educational purposes. Employees expected to:

- Enroll in and actively participate in approved programs
- Provide accurate information on applications and reimbursement requests
- Submit genuine documentation (transcripts, receipts, invoices)
- Use benefits only for approved educational expenses

Consequences of Fraud:

Fraudulent use of education benefits may result in:

- Denial of benefits
- Recoupment of tuition paid
- Disciplinary action up to and including termination
- Legal action for fraud

Section 10: Tax Implications

10.1 Tax-Free Educational Assistance

IRS Section 127:

Under IRS Section 127, employer-provided educational assistance is tax-free up to $5,250 per calendar year^{[2][3]}.

Tax-Free Benefits Include:

- Tuition
- Fees
- Books
- Supplies
- Equipment

Application:

- First $5,250 of educational assistance per year is excluded from gross income
- Not reported as taxable wages on W-2
- No federal income tax, Social Security tax, or Medicare tax withheld

10.2 Taxable Educational Assistance

Amounts Exceeding $5,250:

Educational assistance exceeding $5,250 in a calendar year is considered taxable income:

- Excess amount included in gross income
- Reported on W-2 as wages
- Subject to federal income tax withholding
- Subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes

Example:

- Employee receives $7,500 in tuition assistance for master's degree
- First $5,250: Tax-free
- Remaining $2,250: Taxable income, included on W-2

10.3 Tax Deductions and Credits

Education Tax Credits:

Even if educational assistance is taxable, employees may qualify for education tax credits:

- Lifetime Learning Credit: Up to $2,000 per tax return for qualified education expenses
- American Opportunity Tax Credit: Up to $2,500 per eligible student for first 4 years of undergraduate education

Coordination:

- Tax credits based on qualified expenses not covered by tax-free employer assistance
- Consult tax advisor to maximize tax benefits
- See IRS Publication 970 for details

10.4 Tax Reporting

W-2 Reporting:

- Educational assistance up to $5,250: Not included in Box 1 wages
- Educational assistance exceeding $5,250: Excess included in Box 1 wages

Employee Responsibilities:

- Review W-2 for accuracy
- Report educational assistance on tax return as applicable
- Consult tax professional for individual tax situations

Section 11: Policy Administration

11.1 Program Oversight

JPMorgan Chase Responsibilities:

- Partner with Guild Education to deliver benefit
- Determine eligible programs and funding levels
- Process tuition payments and reimbursements
- Monitor program participation and outcomes
- Ensure compliance with tax laws and regulations

Guild Education Responsibilities:

- Maintain platform and technology infrastructure
- Curate catalog of quality academic programs
- Provide coaching and student support services
- Coordinate tuition payments with partner schools
- Track student progress and completion
- Report program metrics to JPMorgan Chase

11.2 Policy Interpretation and Exceptions

Questions and Clarifications:

Employees with questions about education benefits should contact:

- Guild coaches for program and enrollment questions
- Benefits Service Center for policy and eligibility questions
- Human Resources for approval and exception requests

Exception Requests:

In rare circumstances, employees may request exceptions to policy provisions:

- Submit written request to Human Resources
- Provide justification and supporting documentation
- HR reviews request and consults with management as needed
- Decision communicated in writing
- Exceptions granted at JPMorgan Chase's sole discretion

11.3 Program Evaluation and Improvement

Continuous Improvement:

JPMorgan Chase and Guild Education regularly evaluate the education benefit program:

- Review program participation and enrollment trends
- Assess student satisfaction and outcomes
- Gather employee feedback and suggestions
- Identify opportunities for program expansion
- Add new schools, programs, and learning opportunities
- Update policies to better serve employee needs

Employee Feedback:

Employees encouraged to provide feedback:

- Complete Guild satisfaction surveys
- Share suggestions with Guild coaches
- Contact HR with program improvement ideas

Section 12: Important Notices and Disclaimers

12.1 Plan Document Authority

This policy document provides summary of JPMorgan Chase's Guild Education benefit program. Complete details contained in official HR policy documents, Guild Education terms and conditions, and applicable law. In event of conflict between this document and official documents, official documents govern.

12.2 Right to Amend or Terminate

JPMorgan Chase reserves right to amend, modify, or terminate education benefit program at any time, subject to applicable law. Changes may be made to:

- Eligible programs and schools
- Funding levels and caps
- Eligibility requirements
- Partnership with Guild Education
- Any program provisions

Notice of Changes:

JPMorgan Chase will provide reasonable notice of material program changes affecting current students when possible.

12.3 No Guarantee of Admission or Success

No Guarantee:

JPMorgan Chase's provision of education benefits does not guarantee:

- Admission to any program or institution
- Academic success or degree completion
- Career advancement or promotion
- Specific job placement or role

Student Responsibility:

Students are responsible for:

- Meeting admission requirements
- Maintaining academic standing
- Completing degree requirements
- Managing time and balancing work and school commitments

12.4 No Guarantee of Employment

Participation in education benefit program does not guarantee employment or constitute employment contract. Employment with JPMorgan Chase is at-will and may be terminated at any time by either party, subject to applicable law.

12.5 Equal Opportunity

JPMorgan Chase administers education benefits in compliance with federal, state, and local anti-discrimination laws. Benefits provided without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, gender, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, veteran status, genetic information, or any other protected characteristic.

Conclusion

JPMorgan Chase's Guild Education benefit represents a significant investment in employee development and career advancement. With 100% tuition coverage for select undergraduate and master's programs, funding up to $7,500 annually for other graduate programs and certificates, access to over 500 programs from more than 20 accredited institutions, and personalized coaching support, the program removes financial barriers to higher education and enables employees to pursue their educational and career goals.

Whether earning a bachelor's degree, completing an MBA, obtaining professional certifications like CFP® or CFA®, attending an intensive bootcamp, or learning a new language, JPMorgan Chase employees have access to high-quality, flexible learning programs designed for working adults. The partnership with Guild Education ensures comprehensive support throughout the educational journey, from program selection through graduation.

Employees are encouraged to explore the Guild catalog, connect with a coach, and take advantage of this valuable benefit to unlock new opportunities for personal and professional growth.
